Dear Professor Rozek:

I am replying to your letter of August 5, 1977, to Admiral Stansfield Turner, Director of Central Intelligence, inviting him to attend your conference on Trade between the United States and the Soviet Union and on the US-USSR Trade and Economic Council on Friday and Saturday, September 9th and 10th. The demands on Admiral Turner's time have been such that he has been unable to include your conference on his schedule. I am asked to express his regrets and to extend his best wishes for a productive inquiry into the important subject you have chosen for your conference.

Dear Admiral Turner:

The purpose of this letter is to invite you to attend a Conference on Trade between the United States and the Soviet Union and on the US-USSR Trade and Economic Council. The conference is being sponsored by the Solzhenitsyn Society for Freedom and Justice and will take place on Friday and Saturday, September 9-10, at the Stouffer Inn in Denver, Colorado. Trade between the United States and the Soviet Union is a very important issue and we are making every effort to ensure that all points of view are represented.

The Stouffer Inn is quite close to Stapleton airport and we will be glad to make reservations for you. The registration fee is $100.

Among those who will speak are: Mr. Allan C. Brownfeld, syndicated columnist; Mr. William F. Buckley, Jr., editor of National Review and host of Firing Line; Dr. Ray Cline, former deputy director of the CIA; Mr. Miles M. Costick, top expert on trade between the United States and the Soviet Union and former aide to Senator Jesse Helms; Congressman Philip Crane from Illinois; Professor Lev E. Dobriansky, director of the Institute on Comparative Political and Economic Systems, Georgetown University; Mr. Anthony Harrigan, executive vice president of the United States Industrial Council; Dr. Walter H. Judd, former medical missionary to China and former Congressman from Minnesota; Mr. Jay Lovestone of the AFL-CIO; Mr. John L. Moore, Jr., chairman and president of the Import-Export Bank of the United States; Mr. Harold B. Scott, president of the US-USSR Trade and Economic Council; Mr. Efraim Sevela, author and

Advisory Council

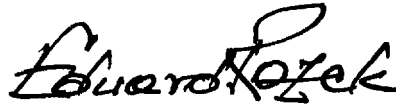

Professor Christiaan Barnard, heart surgeon; Mr. Allan C. Brownfeld, syndicated columnist, Washington, D.C.; United States Senator James L. Buckley; Lord Lindsay of Birker; Mrs. Charlotte E. Cabot, writer and philanthropist; Mr. John Brown Cook, philanthropist and concerned citizen; Lieutenant General Sir John Glubb; Mr. Anthony Harrigan, Executive Vice-President of the United States Industrial Council; Mr. Frank Emerson Harris, President of the Homemakers Guild of America and philanthropist; Dr. S.I. Hayakawa, former President of San Francisco State College; Dr. Walter H. Judd, former Congressman and former medical missionary to China; Professor Hugh Lloyd-Jones, Regius Professor, Christ Church, Oxford University; Mr. Jay Lovestone, leading expert on international Communism and chief political advisor to Mr. George Meany; Professor Charles Malik, Lebanon, former President of the General Assembly of the United Nations; Professor Harvey C. Mansfield, Jr., Chairman of the Department of Government, Harvard University; Mrs. Lillian M. Norgren, a concerned citizen; Sir Denys Page, Regius Professor, Cambridge University; Dr. Tom Sawyer, Executive Vice-President of the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge; Professor Leonard Schapiro, University of London; Mr. Frank Shakespeare, President of the UKO General Mutual Life Society; Mr. Robert Thompson, Jr., a concerned citizen; Professor Harry T. Willetts, Director of Russian and East European Studies, at St. Antony's College, Oxford University; Professor Karl A. Wittfogel, Columbia University; Professor Bertram D. Wolfe, Stanford University.

emigre from the Soviet Union; Mr. Frank Shakespeare, president of RKO General; and Sir Robert Thompson, top expert on Communist strategy.

This topic is extremely timely and significant. Future historians are bound to say that well-meaning, but politically naive, industrialists and businessmen inadvertently contributed to the destruction of America by the Communists by selling the latest technology and other items which enabled the Soviets to achieve predominant military power. The conference will examine thoroughly and objectively all aspects of trade between the United States and the Soviet Union. A free society can survive only when free men know the facts and act intelligently to preserve their way of life and to secure the future for their children. I earnestly hope that you will be able to attend this important conference.

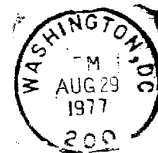

With best wishes.

Cordially,
